ADMINISTRATOR'S REPORT November 2005

Subarea Health Planning Councils (SACs) Activities

Hawaii The SAC members heard from Susan Hunt about her staff's experience at the Train the Trainer Workshop on stroke that was conducted at HPA. Lessons from this session will be built upon to conduct future trainings. The SAC is interested in the Department of Health's development of a statewide stroke plan and awaits the data that it can use to support stroke education and prevention efforts on the Big Island. The SAC will be inviting health providers from around the island to update them on the current status of stroke care.

Honolulu No meeting in October 2005.

Kauai Kauai Civil Defense Agency Administrator, Mr. Mark Marshall, presented an overview of the mission and on-going activities of Agency to improve communications, procedures and emergency responses to any natural or human-caused disaster on Kauai. Members were appreciative of Mr. Marshall's straightforward current assessment of Kauai's situation: need more shelter space; isolation space; responders (non-volunteer); clearer "chain-of-command"; ie., Dengue fever; resources to protect the medically fragile, etc. Recent hurricane disasters have heightened all involved federal, state and county agencies' and the public's realization that emergency preparedness requires a continuing high priority.

Tri-Isle The SAC members took part in the CHAT computer simulation making choices about difference levels of health care coverage and which health services to include within a health insurance plan.
